WHALING BARK WANDERER

Can you go to Shipyard Park, and see the Mizzenmast of the Wanderer, now serving as a flagstaff, without reminiscing? Here, the Bark is pictured as many an older resident remembers her. One of the many beautiful and prosperous ships built and sailed from Mattapoisett shores. So many of us now living here remember the day, a very few years back, when New Bedfordites would be amazed that we came all that way for an evening. They seemed to feel Mattapoisett was a days trip from the city. Progress has made it a 10 minute run now.

Going back to the real early days, New Bedford knew to well about Mattapoisett, and what the name stood for. All the male population knew that from our shipyards came many of the great whaleships that New Bedford's fleet could boast. Nor was that all. Mattapoisett shipmasters Captained many of the New Bedford whalers, and many of the young men of our town helped swell the crews of the ships. Lumber from the forests hereabout was used in the shipyards, and very often Mattapoisett shipbuilders even established shipyards in New Bedford as well as here. They were highly regarded as experts in their trade.

In it's day, Mattapoisett was the most famous whaleship building port in the world. It is a known fact that 300 such ships were built on our shore. If, however, all custom house records were available, it would show double this number. Mattapoisett built ships for many ports, even as far south as Delaware. Her ships, besides whalers, sailed in the North European trade, in the wine trade of France and Italy, and the salt trade with the islands off the coast of North Africa. She provided a fleet of coasters for the West Indies and southern coastwise trade, and vessels built where we now to love to roam brought back tea and spices from China to Boston and New York.

The bulk of our ships, however, sailed from the ports of New Bedford and Nantucket, and it was the whaling industry of New Bedford that kept the 300 shipbuilders of our town bustling along the waterfront. These shipbuilders came to Mattapoisett 25 years before the American Revolution. The first shipbuilder to come here was Charles Stetson, a shipwright from the yards of Scituate in the North River, whose ancestors had built ships for generations. In 1752 he made a dicker with Deacon Constant Dexter, whose homestead took in the area of practically the entire village, and purchased, along with some woodlots, a strip of land, roughly between Pearl and Barstow Streets, and extending north to what is now Park St, which was then the main highway from Hammondtown to Pine Islands. At that time no records show any houses in this entire area, then known as Mattapoisett Village. However, within 25 years, no less than eight other shipbuilders, numerous mariners and shipyard laborers came to this shore, and established shipyards and wharves, built homes and cleared farms.

So, 192 years ago this summer the sounds of ship carpenter's hammers were heard along this shore for the first time in a business that progressed for a century, and can still be remembered by many an oldster as a dominant feature of Mattapoisett.

It was a natural spot for the operation with a fine, natural harbor, a source of supply of fine virgin timber, extending miles inland, and close at hand a ready and anxious market in New Bedford and Nantucket.

Captain Stetson's shipyard lay at the foot of Pearl St., extending from the present Town Wharf property over to the late Mr. Stackpole's!

TO ATTEND MARITIME ACADEMY

Chuck Monahan has received information that his application to Hyannis Maritime Academy has been approved. He will report for duty in August.

To most of us the new George Eldridge office atop Hammond's Hill is just a remodeled structure, but actually the structure was built in 1895 by Edgar Dexter. Much history surrounds it, which we will elaborate on when we cover that section of town. We are sure you will be most interested, for among other things, it contains one, if not the oldest house in these parts.

VISITED WITH PARENTS

Mr. Allen F. Tinkham, a student at the Theological Seminary of the University of Chicago, has recently spent a few days with his parents, Mr. & Mrs. N. Floyd Tinkham. He will be at home again after Easter to do candidating in New England. His graduation will be June 11 at Chicago, and he will be ordained in our Mattapoisett Congregational Church on June 22nd.

HAS SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given on Sunday, April 11th for Beverly Turner by her parents, Mr. & Mrs. David Turner, Church St. Attending her party were Judith Walega, Joyce and Barbara Harriman, Ann Bumpus, Cookie Reed, Nancy Moore, Libby Wertz, Beth Bailey, and her sister, Roberta Turner. Games were played, and prizes were won by Judith and Cookie

ENTERTAIN AT YWCA

Mrs. Marjorie Morris' sixth grade Sunday School class entertained for the Golden Age Group at the Y W C A on Saturday afternoon, April 10th. Mr. Charles Ricketson was a guest harp soloist. Following the program, the Golden Age Group formed an Easter parade for the girls, wearing Easter hats made from vegetables. Some of the paraders ate their hats at the end to the enjoyment of all the girls. Afterwards Mrs. Morris conducted a food auction.

BUNNY HOP AT SILVER GULL INN

Spring flowers and bunny balloons gaily decorated the walls of the Silver Gull ballroom for the "Bunny Hop" of the Mattapoisett Girls Club on Friday, April 9th. Patrons and Patronesses were Mrs. Grace Engessor, Mr. & Mrs. Anthony Sylvia, Mr. & Mrs. Richard Stone and Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence C. Young. Miss Patty Carmichael, Club President, was attired in a red and black cotton print. Gale Smythe, dance chairman, wore a vivid red gown. Jocelyn Kinney had appliqued beads adorning her gown of petal pink silk. Carol Waite wore a dusty pink gown with aqua underskirt. A scoop neck gown of pink and black was worn by Debby Morse. Mary Erhard was attired in green iridescent taffeta and Frances Kouble wore a navy linen dress with white trim. Patty Ross' grey gown was decorated with silver spangles at the neckline. Kathy Fitzgerald's pale pink gown had a V neck and a full skirt. Jean Paiva wore a vivacious red halter top backless gown.

A lily white cotton hoop skirt gown, trimmed with red velvet was worn by Ann Sherman. Peggy Montgomery's navy blue taffeta scoop neck gown was embroidered with flowers. A gown of powder blue taffeta with blue organdy overskirt and lace trim was worn by Nancy Rebello. Gerry Corcoran wore a grey blue silk camisole and skirt. Beverly Heald's gown was navy blue taffeta trimmed in white, and Faith Alden was attired in black taffeta. Bud Lilley's orchestra played for the event, and at the end of the evening played a round of the Bunny Hop, which was enjoyed by all. The balloons and flowers were gathered as souvenirs as the last dance ended.

The orchestra played and everyone sang Happy Birthday to Donald Medeiros, the escort of Jean Paiva.

MEN TO PUT ON TURKEY SUPPER

On Saturday, April 24th at 6:30 P. M. the men will put on a Turkey supper for the townspeople. Proceeds are for the benefit of St. Anthony's Church. The tickets will be limited to 125 and will cost $1.25. William Poisson is ticket chairman and Ed Perry is General Chairman.

RIDING SCHOOL TO OPEN

That riding school we have heard about will be operating this summer for sure. Announcement of it will be made in the near future, giving the town another facility that many will be glad about.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS AND ANNIVERSARY

This is a busy month for Mr. & Mrs. Clifford Atkinson, River Rd. On April 5th Mrs. Atkinson celebrated her birthday, on April 9th Mr. & Mrs. Atkinson celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary, and on April 26th Mr. Atkinson will celebrate his birthday.
Happy Birthday and Anniversary Mr. & Mrs. Atkinson!

RODEO TO BE HELD

The Cape Cod Junior Rodeo will be held on May 2, 1954 at Sylvia's Ranch, North St. In case of rain it will be postponed until May 9th. The trail ride starts at 10 A. M., and this event is for young and old alike. The Western Parade, Western Trail and Fanny events will include all junior riders, and the other events will be run in two classes. Up to 10 years and 10 to 16 years. Ride them all or pick your favorite. Here they are: Boot Race, Flag Race, Water Race, Pony Express Stake Race, Sack Race and Balloon Race. Judging from the attendance at such performances in the past, it seems unnecessary to invite all residents to attend, as it seems to be a spectacle every one enjoys. So, keep the date, May 2nd, in mind, and we look forward to lots of competitive fun for the juniors, and excitement for the rooters. See you all at the Sylvia Ranch on May 2nd.

DISCUSSION GROUP MEETS

Mrs. Roland Morris was hostess Sunday, March 28th for the Discussion Group of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. The meeting was held in the Church Vestry on the subject "U. S. Foreign Policy". It followed the Youth Fellowship meeting, at which Mrs. Morris' sixth grade girls Sunday School class presented a program of Irish folk songs.

IN THE HOME WORKSHOP
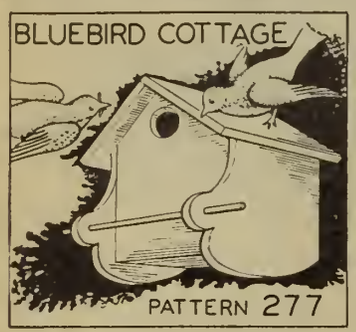
with RUTH WYETH SPEARS



This bluebird house is a perennial favorite both with us bird lovers who like to make them and the bluebirds that like to use them. The pattern also gives directions for a popular wren house. My husband and I have made many of these two styles and feel well repaid each season as they are always occupied by seemingly happy families.

Pattern 277 with both designs will be mailed the day order is received. The price is 25¢.

LONG RANGE WEATHER FORECAST
by CAPT. EZRA TWEEDLE

The whole kit a kaboddle of them 143 hens was mighty good layin fowl and with all that exersize and our treemendious speed and suction they all began to lay and I swan you never seed sich a preduction of aigs. We was plum bombarded with aigs by the dozens. Now a course them aigs was breakin as they hit us and the masts and the lumber and sich was our speed that the heat we stirred up was frying those blasted aigs in mid air and what aigs that was fried solid on the Bessie B, Eliza & me went a streaming out astern. Now for the first time I'm going to tell the secret of the flying saucers which we now know ain't saucers at all but just fried eggs which just ain't nver slowed down so next time you draw a bead on one look for the yolk and you'll see that old Capt. Eliza ain't#$%"&_'-$¢¿ Dad rat it the weather for next week is
